I believe there to be two critical factors necessary in keeping the public education promises we have made to Utah families. The first is parental involvement. The second is the quality and effectiveness of the teaching that happens in the classroom itself. All policies, decisions, programs, etc. should consider the impact on these two factors as the highest priority.

A diverse background has helped prepare me to make a significant contribution to the State Board. My father was a great teacher and an inspiring coach. I grew up watching the impact good teaching can have on youth. My career interests have been in the direction of accounting and finance. Since I graduated with a Masters Degree in International Management, I have worked as an Entrepreneur, Senior Accountant, Financial Analyst, Developer, CFO and more. I have 15 years of experience in non-profit and public finance. I have served as a member of the executive board of UAPCS (Utah Association of Public Charter Schools) as well as a Precinct chair and a PTA vice president. I believe these life experiences have prepared me to be able to make a positive impact as a member of the Utah State School Board of Education.
